 New Hampshire taxes only interest and dividend income, and that's been phasing out — most NH residents owe nothing at the state level on wages or 1099 income. Top rates shown are top marginal rates as of late 2025 — most filers fall in lower brackets. Your effective rate is usually 40–60% of the top rate. Update the State rate in your Quarterly Tax System's Setup tab with your actual bracket if you want precision.

Due dates: if not noted otherwise, the state mirrors the federal calendar (Apr 15 / Jun 15 / Sep 15 / Jan 15 of the following year). Iowa is the main exception — Q1 is due April 30 instead of April 15. Several states' deadlines move to the next business day if they fall on a weekend or holiday — check each year.

Educational only — not legal or tax advice. State tax laws change every year. Verify current rates and forms at your state's revenue department website before filing. Made by SideHustleGuard · sidehustleguard.com
